

M'ADOO LEADING ON THIRD COUNT

He, and this was the only sign of a pre-arranged effort at a demonstration.

Mr. Bryan came again and again to the side of the stand to wave to the crowd below. His face was shining and the spot lights made the tears that rolled slowly over the deep furrows of his face sparkle like jewels. He was moved deeply and showed it, but his eyes went always toward that silent, waiting group of delegates which yielded no lot to the tide of feeling that swept down from the galleries.

COLBY IS HEARD

It took desperate poundings of the gavel to quiet the storm. It died slowly only to swell up again. Finally, after a threat that the galleries would be cleared, Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state, rose to answer for the administration on the long issue.

Cool, unhurried in speech, President Wilson's spokesman struck at once at the emotional qualities in the appeal Mr. Bryan had made. He dismissed the recent effort to the Nebraska on prohibition almost without notice, approached his own topic with lightness of touch that brought laughter at times and with consummate skill sought to turn aside the rush of feeling.

Mr. Bryan had counted upon. He also was accorded a reception and a demonstration, this time with the noise and cheering supported by hand and organ, but the crisis was over.

It hardly needed the effort of Senator Glass as platform committee chairman to assure the full and complete victory for the administration forces and the committee draft platform which followed. Even the crowd in the galleries appeared to expect it, for despite the tribute it had paid Mr. Bryan, a chuckle of amusement and a spatter of handclapping greeted the valley of tremendous "noes" which sent the Bryan plank to defeat.

The vote on the dry plank was overwhelming, a roll call having been demanded by Mr. Bryan, and it went down with almost three to one against it. In the succeeding votes on his proposal, the thunder of the negative almost blotted from memory the fact that a scattering feeble murmur of ayes had preceded it in every case.

Flashlights on the Frisco Camp

(BY LAMBERT ST. CLAIR)
SAN FRANCISCO — Vice President Marshall today found a live coal again in a restaurant near the convention hall so good that he thinks the millennium is at hand. Other than having hardening of the arteries, the vice president has found a live coal again in a restaurant near the convention hall so good that he thinks the millennium is at hand.

A simple little yarn about a boy who said women were made from the brain of man, told by Mrs. W. A. Brown, Jr., of West Virginia, in second round of the nomination of Davis today, rocked the convention with laughter. Few delegates recognized Mrs. Brown as Izetta Jewell, a prominent actress of a dozen years ago who married wealthy and retired.

"I may be defeated for the vice presidential nomination," said Jim Han Lewis today, "but I will go down with my whiskers flying."

Secretary Joe Daniels is not worrying about crowded housing conditions here. He is sleeping on a battleship out in the bay. Secretary Colby, leading the war effort, is stopping in town, but he finds himself more at sea than Joe, who is just looking on.

While the resolution committee was drafting a highly moral platform in the hall today, a colored janitor in an adjoining room dropped $75 in a crap game.

Many folks say Governor Cornwell, who nominated Davis, was the best looking man who has spoken.

Tal Flood and his red buttonhole boutonniere impressed the California delegation that it presented him with a bouquet of red flowers that a horse could not eat in a day.

Fannie Hurst caused a riot at a dinner luncheon today by solemnly placing to her feet and nominating "the man who" for dog catcher.

Gov. Smith, of New York, admits that he did not hear any of the denunciation for him yesterday. He was very comfortable in a nearby damp and friendly atmosphere at the time he voted.

Senator Dubois is out strongly for the overall movement, in a mad rush to get here before the hall is full. He was very comfortable in a nearby damp and friendly atmosphere at the time he voted.

A second edition of Aunt Jemima of the Vaseline in a gallery yelled herself two shades blacker in the face today when Carter Glass was placed in nomination.

This was a great day for ten kids who hung around the exterior of the hall with nothing to do. First an opponent of McAdoo gave them $20 for distributing several thousand handbills attacking McAdoo and a minute later a McAdoo adherent gave them $10 to throw them in a sewer.

Junior and several officers had to drive delegates from the hall after the early adjournment. Feet are getting very tired and delegates do not like to be set walking again once they get down.

CHILLICOTHE NOW NORMAL AGAIN

Camp Sherman Shadow of Its Former War Action

CHILLICOTHE — Two years ago Chillicothe was a boom town. The little city at the foot of Mount Logan was the gateway to Camp Sherman, where American boys by the thousands were being moulded into soldiers to fight the Hun overseas. Camp Sherman was a city of approximately 50,000 men. Everything was bustle and bustle.

Today everything is changed. Chillicothe is again the sleepy little country seat town of Ross county. Camp Sherman is a deserted village, with a bare handful of United States troops guarding the empty barracks. Here and there a flag is flying to denote the presence of a United States army post. But the parade grounds are empty and the roads to and from the camp are deserted. In the height of its glory, the roads into the camp were a solid line of automobiles and trucks. Thousands of visitors thronged the camp. Now the visitors are few and far between.

Then the thousands of recruits were full of enthusiasm and anxious to meet the Germans. Now the few soldiers for the most part are older men and show none of the enthusiasm of war days.

Chillicothe, once full of strangers overcrowding hotels and lunchrooms, also bears a deserted look for one who knew the city when it was a "war town." A few transients sleep in hotel chairs, and the restaurants no longer are filled to capacity. The streets once were full of automobiles making regular trips to Camp Sherman. Now an occasional machine passes by.

In the days of the war fever, hundreds of soldiers were seen on the streets on leave. Officers in natty uniforms returned the salute of the buck private. Welfare rooms operated by various religious and fraternal organizations were everywhere. Here and there an occasional soldier is noticed. Officers still wear natty uniforms and promenade the streets but their numbers have diminished greatly. The welfare rooms have disappeared.

If you were a buck private at Camp Sherman in 1917 or 1918, you wouldn't recognize either the camp or Chillicothe now.

During the war days the farmers from the surrounding country avoided Chillicothe, which suddenly had become a city of high war prices. Again the farmers are returning to the county seat town. Peace has settled upon Chillicothe and Camp Sherman.

The Effects of Opates.

Infants are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are known to well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells which are likely to become permanent, causing debility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying powers are a result of dosing with opates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggists should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to lose them willfully with narcotics.

Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

George Sisler and Roger Hornsby Won't Let Anyone Else Get a Look in on First Place in the Hit Columns of the Big Leagues

HORNSBY, CENTURY HITTER

CHICAGO, Ill.—Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis star, banged out his 100th hit of the season in Wednesday's game against Cincinnati, the first player in the National League to touch the century mark.

Hornsby slipped slightly in his batting, but continues to hold a comfortable lead among the regulars who have participated in 35 or more games, according to averages released today and which include games of Wednesday. The St. Louis cracker is topping the hitters with an average of .380, which made 19 his 19th season in which he has hit 262 times. His total base mark of 157 is the highest in the league and includes nineteen doubles, ten triples and six homers. In addition to this record the St. Louis favorite is sharing run-scoring honors with Max Flack of Chicago. Each has registered 46 times.

C. Williams, the Philadelphia outfielder, slammed out another homer which gave him eight, and Robertson, Chicago, who was sharing honors with Hornsby last week as runner-up to the elongated outfielder, also belted a circuit drive, breaking the tie with the St. Louisian and placing himself one behind Williams.

The catchers and pitchers seem unable to stop May Carey, the first-footed Pittsburgher, on the paths. He is showing the way to the base stealers with 25 thefts.

Other leading batters: E. Smith, New York, .364; Nicholson, Pittsburgh, .333; Robertson, Chicago, .332; Daubert, Cincinnati, .325; Williams, Philadelphia, .321; Green, Boston, .322; Roush, Cincinnati, .321; Kelly, New York, .314; Myers, Brooklyn, .312; Flack, Chicago, .312.

The batting of "Babe" Ruth the home run king of the New York club continues to be the topic in the American League. The big southpaw slugger bagged a brace of homers in the doubleheader with Philadelphia last Wednesday which gave him a total of 24, only 5 behind the world's record which he made last year.

In addition to cracking out home runs, Ruth is steadily climbing to the top among the batters of the league who have participated in 35 or more games. The big fellow is hitting .374; just twenty points behind Tris Speaker of Cleveland and Joe Jackson of Chicago who are sharing the honor of runners-up to George Sisler, the St. Louis star, who is hitting .371. Speaker and Jackson are hitting .364.

Ruth, besides his batting prowess is out for other honors. He has tied Speaker, the Cleveland manager, in number of runs scored. Each has registered sixty-three times. Rise of Washington, which is far ahead in the past week and is far ahead in front among the base-stealers with 20 thefts. His nearest rival is Rofa, a teammate who has stolen 19 bases.

Other leading batters: Weaver, Chicago, .350; Miller, Washington, .347; Johnson, Cleveland, .333; Rice, Washington, .330; Foy, Chicago, .329; Judge, Washington, .327; Gedeon, St. Louis, .322; R. Collins, Chicago, .321.

SHOVE DID IT FOR BENNY LEONARD

BENTON HARBOR, Mich.—How lightweight champion Benny Leonard and literally "broke" into the fighting game has been told by his manager, Billy Gibson, now here with Benny to remain until after his bout next Monday afternoon with Charley White of Chicago.

With other kids of his neighborhood, Benny was invited himself to Gibson's shows at the Fairmount A. C. On the particular night in question, back in 1912, the champion then 16 years old, had secured a place in a vanage in the sky over Gibson's office. The rest of the kids didn't dare risk the chance of sitting on the thin window pane, but they did not propose to let Benny take in the show without seeing it themselves. Accordingly, one of the "gangs" pushed him thru the open space he had been looking thru and he landed right in his future manager's office.

"What do you want in here?" queried Gibson, who was shy a boxer for his first bout.

"I came to see the fight," piped Benny. To which answer Gibson told the youngster he would have to pay $5. "But I haven't any," shot back the now frightened Benny.

"Can you fight?" asked Gibson and when Benny said he thought he could, he was let "set."

It was Mickey Finnegan whom Leonard opposed and the third round saw him win by knockout. He was a regular on Gibson's cards then from that time on.

BABE RUTH'S NEAREST RIVAL, A HORSE; BIG BOY DRAWS KALE

An energetic camp follower along the statistical trail desires to know the greatest turnstile products of the year—meaning the list of those who would draw in most money at the gate.

This record shouldn't be very hard to figure out. The leading kale enticer would be Jack Dempsey, due to his possession of the heavyweight title.

Coupled with Willard last July he drew in more than $450,000 for one appearance at Toledo.

Coupled with Carpenter now he would be good for over half a million. Many of these might deposit the ringside tax in the hope of seeing Dempsey knocked three-cornered, but they would be there just the same.

Carpenter, as a possessor of the European heavyweight title, would be the second selection.

The Frenchman, in meeting Dempsey, would be almost an equal card with the champion. His general popularity is much greater, but he doesn't hold the main crown.

Carpenter could play to a tremendous house in tacking any good heavyweight, but so long as the title was not at stake the receipts would be well below a championship meeting.

The third selection brings out more of a problem. "Babe" Ruth is undoubtedly the greatest turnstile favorite that baseball has ever known. In the last two seasons more people have paid the toll to see Ruth than any, even Cobb, ever lured to the stands in the same length of time.

Ruth is a more sensational product than Cobb, as his mastery happens to be in line with the public fancy attached to home runs.

The public at large is extremely fond of seeing the ball lifted out of the enclosure. It is the Big Bloke which produces the thrill.

Ruth, in the course of a Big Bloke, will probably draw more money than Man o' War, as the latter makes far fewer appearances and so far no mastery.

Yet Man o' War will draw more extra money in a single year than Ruth will. He might even give Ruth a battle on the year.

At an average of $1 a throw Ruth will easily be good for $150,000 this season, counting only those who have come to see the "Babe" and who otherwise would remain at work or be out missing shot puts.

But Man o' War costs $3 per head. And if the big three-year-old had a challenger of merit to dispute the issue, he could easily entice out an extra $40,000 for any afternoon's start.

BROWN QUILTS AS MANAGER
TERRE HAUTE, Ind.—Mordcaï Brown has tendered his resignation as manager of the Terre Haute Three Eyes team. He said he intended to taking a few days' vacation and they might jump out some place and play ball.

Left Fielder Oberla was appointed field manager until a permanent one can be signed. Brown said that he did not feel the Terre Haute club could afford a bench manager and declared that at present he is not in condition to take his regular turn on the slab.

BOLEN READY, GRID WORK
ADA.—Coach Charles ("Shifty") Bolen is here making plans to get everything in readiness for the opening of the athletic year at Ohio Northern University next fall.

It is very probable that the football candidates will be called to school two weeks earlier so that they will be in trim for the opening game.

AS YOU LIKE IT

Dear Tom,
We are very glad
To see your smiling face
And have you in our midst again
Because you are A good sportsman and A "regular guy" and
A jolly good fellow, all that.
We have always admired
The pluck you have shown
In coming back again and again
With your various Shamrocks
And trying to put a reef
In our flying jib
We hand you herewith
The key to the city.
We would also hand you
The key to our collar,
But, old top, it isn't any use.
You can have anything over here
That you may desire—
Anything that isn't called down.
We give you carte blanche.
You can have anything we've got Except one thing—
The American cup.
And really now, Tom, if we Did hand off and give you
The cup, we wouldn't have
A drop of anything to put in it.
So, you see how it is.
It wouldn't be of any use.
And it grieves us as much
As it does you.

The Topeka "Journal" working on the mystery in murder of the famous New York whist player, thinks progress might be made if any one could learn the identity of the man whose ace the doomed expert trumped last.

The investigators have not yet decided whether Elwell took his false teeth out before or after he was killed. Outside of that the case is complete except as to the identity of the person who did the killing.

PERSONAL PREMEDITATIONS
I don't object to having ladies cigarettes are good for.

I am of the opinion that if a man

funeral and not mine.

I complained about the weather

didn't do any good.

I am never favorably impressed

I am dead tired of having ladies hundred times a day.

I read Samson's story for relaxation and pleasure for hard work.
I never lost an umbrella. I can never find one lying around loose.

I have never made it a practice in my professional work to accept graft

has ever been offered.

I don't think the world would the history of this country.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT
This is not a fortunate day.
Libel suits and slander will be prevalent under this rule.

It is not a lucky day for journeys either by land or sea.
There will be accidents on ships and trains today according to the stars.

A season of unprecedented activity is foreshadowed for the summer resorts. This will be due to the extraordinary heat.

Persons whose birthday this is should attend strictly to business this year if they would be prosperous.

Children born today will be gifted with vivid imaginations and a tendency to daydream.

THE COAL SHORTAGE

THE coal shortage is real. It is not a scheme upon the part of anyone to advance prices, altho that is the effect of it, says the Columbus Dispatch. No matter what happens from this time forward, there will be less coal available this winter than will be needed. If we have a hundred per cent production from this moment, there will still be a shortage when cold weather comes, and if we have less than a hundred per cent production there is certain to be disaster.

The lake ports from which coal for the Northwest is shipped, have obtained from ten per cent to twenty-five per cent of the usual amount. It will be physically impossible to make up the shortage from this time until lake transportation closes.
What the people of the Northwest are going to do for coal this winter, we do not know, and they do not know.

The trouble is largely due to the railroad situation—to a lack of equipment and to the manner in which coal cars have been used for other purposes. To give some idea of the lack of equipment, it can be stated that the normal output of coal cars prior to the war, was about a hundred thousand a year.
That took care of the destruction of cars and the increased demand for coal due to the natural growth of the country.
But since the war started, there have been built in this country all told only about a hundred and thirty-five thousand coal cars. We are therefore at least four hundred thousand cars short.

Further, the coal cars were formerly used only for coal.
They were operated in zones. The cars in use on the roads in this part of the country went no further west than Chicago and no further east than Buffalo. They were therefore in use hauling coal all the time. Under the ruling of the interstate commerce commission some time ago, coal cars were no longer considered exclusively as such. They might be used for hauling anything a person desired hauled, and sent anywhere the shipper desired to send them. It happened, therefore, that many of the coal cars originally used only for hauling coal in this region were sent as far away as the Pacific coast, or to Texas, loaded with something else besides coal. It takes about ten months for a car to get back from the coast, once it starts there. It takes from three to five months for it to get back from the Southwest.

So while we have a shortage of coal cars of at least four hundred thousand for the whole country, it is really more acute than the figures indicate, for the reason that the cars are now scattered all over the nation, whereas formerly they were engaged exclusively in the coal trade.

As for the building of cars, two things are required—money and time. The roads have not been able to secure money with which to build cars. The government now proposes to advance a hundred and twenty-five million dollars, to help the roads out, but the government can not advance the time that it requires to build cars. The outlook is indeed serious. Not only will the price of coal be much higher than it ought to be;
it is likely to be practically impossible to secure as much coal as is needed at any price.

HIGH-PRICED WASH

ANNA WELD with her buttermilk baths had nothing on the baby of a Polish family in Baltimore. Federal agents recently raided the soft drink saloon and home of Jim Rostankowski in search of whisky which was supposed to have been delivered to the saloon from a ship.

The dealer had been tipped off and the raid promised to turn out a failure when one of the agents happened to pass the lady of the house who was industriously rubbing some baby's clothes in a tub. The fragrance of old whisky came from the tub. The agent stopped and investigated. It was discovered that eight gallons of whisky had been dumped into the tub to avoid arrest. Eight gallons of whisky, at bootleggers' prices, is worth about $800. The agents proceeded with the search after discovering the whisky in the tub and a great deal of liquor was found on the premises.

BUT WHO PAID FOR 'EM?

THAT delightful republican organ of the snobs, the New York Tribune, howls with delight on making the discovery that the delegates to the Chicago convention were better dressed than those at the San Francisco gathering, says Port Wayne Journal-Gazette. "Seemingly," it says, "the average democrat trades at one of those stores where you climb one flight of stairs and save $10." This is a fierce indictment.
You and I would not climb one flight of stairs to save $10 these days—not on your tinfole. Nothing "cheap" about us
But then—reflecting upon that well dressed crowd at Chicago, why shouldn't they have been indifferent to the saving of $10.
With $1,225,000 and $400,000 campaign funds why shouldn't all have been well dressed. But then there always will be a suspicion that some of them may not have paid for their own suits.

HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

On Caring Husbands
While old Ben Franklin and a great raft of latter day near-statesmen would say, while it is always a great pleasure to me to advise anxious wives how to manage hopeless husbands, at the same time, still, and nevertheless I do not like to be too hard on the husbands. They mean well, and we should try to encourage them and not consider their unnumerable crimes as or dreadful enormities. A husband, treated kindly and humored a little, will eventually learn to eat right out of your hand and purr gently even while you are thumbing over his own private personal running expense bank roll to see if you can sequester a tenner or so.

A great many of these anxious husband-owners or lessees seem to have acquired the impression that I am death on tobacco and all such deplorable domestic crimes. It is just like a woman to react late at night sitting man remains out late at night sitting with a sick friend all men whose more or less gainful occupations demand late hours are gamblers. By a similar system of logic many husband-owners or slave-drivers believe that because I assert that youths who use tobacco are physically, mentally or morally defective, it necessarily follows that grown men who use it are in danger. I can assure the financial manager of a million or two poor geeks that this deduction is correct in about one-half of the cases.

Physicians are aware that tobacco is a killer. A man who smokes too before noon is probably using tobacco excessively and injuring his health and shortening his life thereby. A great many men who use tobacco, as they imagine, moderately, are at this moment affected with arterial, heart or kidney lesions of which they remain ignorant, for "good health," as that condition is popularly interpreted, means little else than temporary freedom from disabling sickness, and it is characteristic of the various manifestations of cardiovascular or arterio-sclerotic degeneration that the victim usually considers himself fairly healthy until a physical examination or some accidental factor brings his condition to the attention of a physician.

A man who can't postpone his flirtation with Lady Nicotine until after dinner in the evening, hasn't the tobacco habit at all; the habit has him, and the habit proves it has him every time he smokes in business hours.

A man who smokes in business hours is unquestionably less efficient than he would be without the narcotic action of the tobacco. Then too a plain gentleman, without any reference to the artificialities or amenities of la-de-da refinement, will not in-flect his second-hand fumes on any person who does not use tobacco in business hours.

Some everyday injurious effects of tobacco noted in moderate and excessive smokers are: high blood pressure, arteriosclerosis, serious attacks indistinguishable from angina pec-toris ("angina of the heart"), palpitation, failure of vision (tobacco amblyopia), insomnia, tremor, diminished mental and physical efficiency, cancer of the lip, tongue and throat,
neurosis, and digestive troubles.

When Louisville first heard of Matches

In the early thirties of the nineteenth century, a lady of Louisville wrote to her cousin in New York:

"When I was in Richmond last winter I was told of a curious new device for making fire. It consisted of small splinters of wood with tips of some substance that burst into flame when rubbed on a rough surface. If you can procure some of them for me, I shall be grateful."

It was many years after matches were generally made in Europe before they were seen throughout America. There was no means for spreading rapidly such wonderful news.

Today the new invention that contributes largely to comfort or convenience is quickly known in every section of the land. Advertisements bring the story. The farmer's wife of Idaho or Texas is quite as well posted as the city woman of the East.

Read the advertisements in The Lima News & Times-Democrat. They are the heralds of progress, the great news-spreading force of modern industry. They contain real news for you. They save you time and lessen your work and enable you to obtain better value for the money you spend.

Time spent in reading advertisements in The Lima News & Times-Democrat is well spent.

A LIVE COMMUNITY ---BETTER BUSINESS

How business men can help build up their home communities—and why it pays

Ask the typical manufacturer what is the best means of keeping good men and he will answer:

"Wages."

Ask the typical wholesaler and he will answer:

"Wages."

Ask the typical merchant and he will answer:

"Wages."

Now the most interesting thing about that answer is that, in the sense intended, there is hardly a grain of truth in it.

Wages are indispensable. If men are to stay, moreover, the wages must approximate those paid for like service throughout the country. And yet wages alone are no criterion to go by when all the aspects of the case are considered.

Yet Butte, Montana, and Chicago, Illinois, pay more than good wages and countless concerns find workmen not only hard to keep but hard to get, while Grand Rapids, Michigan, and Freeport, Illinois, hardly pay the average wage of the United States and not only get good workmen but keep them.

Without certain means beyond wages, most of them beyond the reach of any one employer alone, men will not remain in any factory, jobbing house, or store, in this generation, not matter what the wages. And these other means are not shower baths, shop clubs, welfare workers, group insurance, turkeys at Christmas, or any other such gifts, pleasant as such things are.

These other means are things with which employers used to think they had only a distant or "theoretical" concern. They are the elements of community service—houses to live in, schools for the children, sewers, gardens, band concerts, churches, neighborliness, something to do of a Saturday afternoon.

The problem for the business executive and employer is bound up in the question, "How can we increase our business by cooperating in community building?" In the analysis of scores of cities, I have come upon a few executives that had the insight to ask it in substantially that form, the most executives accept their responsibility in community building as a vague form of self-interest, to be undertaken when time can be found.

The answer includes primary differences for different kinds of business. They are all related, of course, related as closely as the branches of a tree. Let us now and then the branches on one side flourish or one alone thrives, while the others waste themselves on water shoots, or shrivel with dry rot, or swell with the blight.

I follow a profession which ought to have prepared me for the conclusion that wages are not of primary importance, when other conditions are wrong. As a matter of personal experience, I do not believe I was ready for it half-way. More and more, as I went about my way studying cities and prescribing for them, this understanding forced itself into my mind.

As I look back on my own unreadiness, I am not surprised that business executives should have been so slow to understand or that hundreds of them should still damn such a statement as purely "theoretical."

WHAT DO YOU WANT?

JUST what do you want? High costs and low wages, or low costs and high wages? Anybody with one whole thought in his head will say that he wants low costs with high wages. And we can have this if each of us will do his part.

There is just one way to get what all the country needs. That one way is work.

We can't reduce prices until we increase production. We can't increase production until every mother's son, and daughter, buckles down to the job with the determination to produce the limit.

There is no place for the slacker in business, or anywhere else. It is time each of us understand his responsibility.

It makes no difference what you are doing, but it makes a lot of difference how you do it. Your job may be in the "front office," or in the factory, or in the home, wherever it is it's YOUR JOB, and you can't be fair to yourself or anybody else unless you give that job the best there is in you.

You can't reduce the cost of living by howling about it. But you can reduce it by doing more and better work. As soon as you speed up production, prices will have to drop. They will have to drop because the market will have all the goods it wants.

After you have shown what you can do it will be time to talk. Now is the time to work.

Take an interest in your work. All of us can do more than we are now doing.

Get on the job with a cheer. Produce and watch the prices fall. Make every minute count. Make your dollar worth what it used to be worth. IT'S UP TO YOU.

SAFETY SWITCH IS NEW INVENTION

L. Sauer's is introducing a Much Needed Appliance for Electrical Devices

Many times there are serious fires, and accidents caused by carelessness in leaving electric irons and other electrical appliances which are left "on" instead of being turned "off" when the article is not in use.

To prevent an electric percolator, tea pot or tea kettle from boiling dry and causing damage a new invention has found its way to the markets under the name of Hotpoint safety switch, which makes these accidents impossible.

This new device as well as all other Hotpoint articles, manufactured by the Edison Electric Appliance Co., Inc. of Chicago is being introduced on Lima markets by L. Sauer's electrical appliance shop at 115 West Wayne street.

Mr. Sauer's, in his newly established shop is also making a specialty of repairing all kinds of electric motors as well as house wiring. Although Mr. Sauer's has been in his present location for but a short time he has built up a considerable business.

HE JUST COULDN'T HELP LOVING WOMEN

No. 2 in Series of 4 Diagnoses Hubby's Case
BIGAMIST ADMITS GUILT

Prison Sentence of Five Years is Imposed

Unwittingly did handsome Edith Smith Oldfield, second of four wives of John H. Oldfield, send her bigamist husband to prison.

The next five years with him in prison will be a cross for me to bear," she said, after Judge Harry Keidan had sentenced Oldfield to two and one-half to five years, following his plea of guilty.

Oldfield's matrimonial career started about ten years ago, when he married a Canadian girl who later divorced him and now lives in Windsor. He refused to give her name.

He married Edith Smith, of New York, in Detroit, August 24, 1914, following the divorce. With her he lived six years while working as a traveling salesman in Michigan.

While still living with his second wife he married Agnes Norman in Chicago in 1919. His fourth wife was Helen Gates, whom he married in Detroit about four weeks ago, spending their honeymoon at the Hotel Cadillac.

Oldfield's fourth honeymoon was rudely broken into when his second wife came to Detroit to locate him in order to start divorce proceedings. A general round-up of wives followed with a quick sentence following the plea of guilty.

Then wife No. 2 was filled with remorse. "I would not have done this had I known where it would lead," said she.

Mrs. Edith Smith Oldfield is a brunette of magnetic presence, handsome, well proportioned and tastefully groomed.

"I would have gone to another state, waited a few years then have started divorce proceedings on another charge."

WONDERFUL HUSBAND
He was a wonderful husband. He was a lover every minute. But my life was a hell with him, because of other women. But you know, he was the kind you could forgive. He was so handsome, so boyish. He just couldn't help loving women. It was his only weakness.

"The five years they gave him will be a cross for me to bear. I wonder will I always be thinking of him there in prison?"

Her face brightened. "But inside of two months he'll be the pet of the prison. He'll have them all his friends."

"He married the Illinois girl while we were on one of his business trips. He shipped away from the hotel for a couple of days, then came back to me. When I found out about it I left him."

JUST COULDN'T HELP IT
"This little Helen Gates is the baby kind. She cried all the time. Perhaps I feel as deeply as she does, but I don't cry. She's the only blonde he ever had in his life. Always liked dark women, like me. I asked him 'What's the matter, Jack, did you run out of brunettes?'"

"I don't know why he did this. I guess he just couldn't help it."

Oldfield spoke highly of his last three wives, but rather laughed off the first marriage. He said he would plead guilty to keep his wives' names out of it.

Flashlights on the Frisco Camp

(BY LAMBERT ST. CLAIR)

SAN FRANCISCO — Vice President Marshall today found a five-cent cigar in a restaurant near the convention hall so good that he thinks the millennium is at hand—other than having hardening of the arteries, the cigar is passing fair.

When a burly Irish cop called Marshall threatened him with one of the smokes. The threat was effective.

A simple little yarn about a boy who said woman was made from the brain of man, told by Mrs. W. A. Brown, Jr., of West Virginia, in seconding the nomination of Davis to-day, rocked the convention with laughter. Few delegates recognized Mrs. Brown as Izetta Jewell, a prominent actress of a dozen years ago who married wealthy and retired.

"I may be defeated for the vice presidential nomination," said Jim Ham Lewis today, "but I will go down with my whiskers flying."

Secretary Joe Daniels is not worrying about crowded housing conditions here. He is sleeping on a battleship out in the bay. Secretary Colby, leading the wet fight, is stopping in town, but he finds himself more at sea than Joe, who is just looking on.

While the resolution committee was drafting a highly moral platform in the hall today, a colored janitor in an adjoining room dropped $75 in a crap game.

Many folks say Governor Cornwell, who nominated Davis, was the best looking man who has spoken.

Hal Flood and his red buttonhole bouquet so impressed the California delegation that it presented him with a bouquet of red flowers that a horse could not eat in a day.

Pammy Hurst caused a riot at a dignified luncheon today by solemnly rising to her feet and nominating "the man who" for dog catcher.

Gov. Smith, of New York, admits that he did not hear any of the demonstration for him yesterday. He was very comfortable in a nearby damp and friendly atmosphere at the time however.

Senator Dubois is out strongly for the overall movement, in a mad rush to get here he failed to transfer the family trunk from rail to steamer at Portland with the result that he and Mrs. Dubois are traveling very tight.

When it was announced from the platform today that everybody could ride free this week on the municipal railway, the taxi bandits in the lobby reeled.

A second edition of Aunt Jemima of Old Virginia in a gallery yelled herself two shades blacker in the face today when Carter Glass was placed in nomination.

This was a great day for ten kids who hung around the exterior of the hall with nothing to do. First an opponent of McAdoo gave them $20 for distributing several thousand handbills attacking McAdoo and a minute later a McAdoo adherent gave them $10 to throw them in a sewer.

Janitors and special officers had to drive delegates from the hall after the early adjournment. Feet are getting very tired and delegates do not like to be set walking again once they get down.

NEW PASTOR COMES TO SOUTH SIDE CHURCH

Rev. W. F. Baker, of Winchester, Ind., for the past two years pastor of the Main Street Church of Christ in that city, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the South Side Church of Christ, and will move his family to Lima this week. Rev. Baker has been in the ministry for the past 20 years, and during that period helped build three churches.

Rev. Baker has a wide reputation as a minister. Members of the Winchester Ministerial Association sent Rev. Baker a letter of regret when they learned of his acceptance of the Lima call.

CELEBRATION ALL WEEK
McCullough's lake management is planning a full week of celebration of the Fourth. Starting to big seven days off with fireworks, dancing, swimming and boating, on Monday, they will continue the entertainments through every day of the week, they announce.

Dancing will be on the program every night of the week.

RAILROAD ACTIVITIES RESUMED IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY. — Immediate resumption of traffic has been ordered on the branch of the National Railway lines extending from this city to Cuernavaca and Iguala to Balsas, in the State of Guerrero. The entire line has been restored to traffic, it having in the past been permitted to fall into disrepair during the domination of Emiliano Zapata, until the time of his death the bandit leader of the State of Morales. It is also announced by Government officials that preparations are under way for the completion of the road to Acapulco, on the Pacific Coast. This will give the fifth seaport on the west coast with railroad communication to the interior—Guaymas, Mazatlan, Manzanillo, Acapulco and Salina Cruz.

GOOD IDEA, SKIPPER!
LONDON.—Admiral Lord Fisher, England's octogenarian, national evangelist in all matters political and naval, declares it is "high time for England to bet rid of the Hun word 'Empire' and substitute 'Commonwealth' and have a 'Commonwealth Hymn' as glorious as the American 'Battle Hymn'."

SON'S GRAVE WILL BE SOUGHT

Parents of Lieut. Veasey to Sail For France July 10

MAY BRING BODY HOME

Was Second Lima Boy to Be Killed in Battle

The first of the parents of Lima soldiers killed in France, to return to the scene of action, and if possible claim the body of their son, will be Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Veasey, Sr., corner West and McKibben-sts., Mr. and Mrs. Veasey made application for passports several weeks ago, and will leave Lima about July 10 for New York, from where they will sail on the "Lapland" July 17, for England.

It will be two years, July 15 that their only son Lieutenant Edward J. Veasey, was fatally wounded in the battle of Chateau-Thierry dying in a field hospital the following day. Mr. and Mrs. Veasey will go by way of Southampton, and land at Cherbourg, France. From there they will go to Paris, Chateau Thierry, and finally to Belleau Woods, where the bodies of American soldiers killed in action are buried in the American government cemetery.

Lieutenant Veasey was the second Lima boy to be killed in action, his friend and former schoolmate, Corporal William Paul Gallagher, in whose memory the American Legion has been named, having been the first. Corp. Gallagher was wounded and died on June 24, about three weeks previous to Lieutenant Veasey.

Lieutenant Veasey was one of the most promising young lawyers in Chicago, when war was declared, and he volunteered his services. Tributes in his memory were made by the Chicago lodge of Elks, Lima Knights of Columbus, Wayfarers Club, and St. Rose Alumnae, all of which he was a member.

Mr. and Mrs. Veasey are undecided as to whether they will bring the body of their son home, but if they do, funeral services will be conducted here, and interment made in Calhoun cemetery. They expect to return to Lima about the middle of October.

MILL TO UTILIZE ALL PARTS OF GOOBER VINE

MACON, Ga.—A peanut mill which will utilize every part of the vine is to be installed by the National Milling Company of Macon between now and October 1. The mechanical equipment, which will be modern in every way and cost in excess of $300,000, has already been ordered.

The mill will have a capacity of 60 tons of peanuts per day.

The machinery includes a separator which will take the peanuts from the vines, grading and shelling the nuts, baling the stalks and leaves as hay, and crushing the smaller nuts for oil and peanut meal to be used in feeds. The new process will eliminate the labor of picking the peanuts, heretofore a hindrance in the commercial handling of the product.

Why is An Advertisement?

When the baby laughs, when the sun shines, when the flowers bloom, when dinner sends out its inviting aroma; when anyone of ten thousand things happen which attract your attention and gain your interest, you are being advertised to.

And that is the "why" and the whole purpose of any advertisement; to gain your attention, secure your interest, arouse your desire; to tell you something you don't know, to remind you of something you have forgotten, to convince you of something concerning which you have been hesitating, to help you get the best at the least cost.

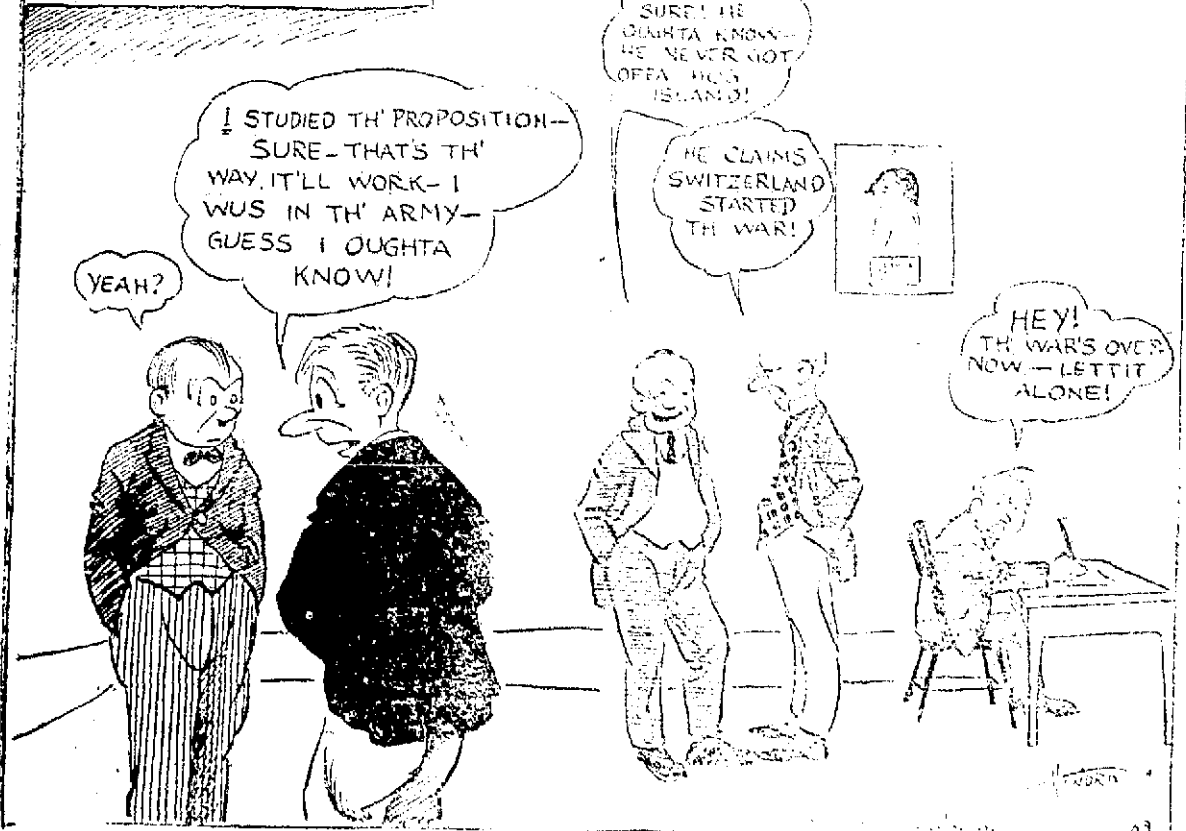

Why is an advertisement? You can wrap the whole question up in a few words: To make you happier. Think it over, and see if you don't find that to be the true answer.
